Subject: Looking for Shaws!

Hope someone can help me track down some of my Shaw ancestors. Robert William Shaw, b. 1821 in NY. Lived in Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois, Kansas that I know of. First wife was Olive Deborah Morrison in Iowa and they had five children. Second wife was Sarah Jane Gillard (or Gaylord) Howard. Sarah Jane was born in Illinois in 1842. Her first husband was David Howard. He died and both of their baby girls died. Believe she married Robert Shaw Sept. 1863 in Iowa. Sarah and Robert had 9 or 10 children. They were in Laverne, MN in 1871 when my grandfather, Arthur Edmund Shaw was born. Moved to Illinois and lived in the Lincoln house outside Springfield when Arthur was about 7 years old. They then moved to the Topeka, Kansas area and Robert died in 1885. Sarah must have then moved to Colorado with some of the children because she died in Willard, CO. Arthur lived in Cripple Creek, CO for some time where he worked for Bell telephone, was a trouble shooter on an irrigation ditch, and worked in a mine. He then moved to the Fort Scott, KS area and married in 1907 to Emma Scram. Arthur died in 1928 of possibly both bone cancer and diabetes. We have been told by some of the Shaws that Robert's father came to the U.S. from Ireland when he was 12-years-old. Have also been told that we are distantly related to George Bernard Shaw. If so, it would have to be from one of GBS's uncles because George was the son of George Carr Shaw who was the youngest of 13 children and GBS had no children.

If any of this information is close to what anyone else has that is working on the Shaw name, I would be glad to share any of mine. I have more name and info that I won't put here because of space. Hope to hear from someone.

Several lines of my husbands were in NORTH CAROLINA.

The earliest of his SHAW line was Martin SHAW, Sr. b 1773 SC. Could his parents have come from North Carolina, also?

His paternal side also had PARRISH, MATHIS, MONK, DEVANE, GIDDENS, EDMONDSON, DAVIS, CONTE, COX, JAMES. Many of these were in NC. Family migrated to Georgia.
Thanks, E-MAIL - Akinshaw@aol.com

Hi...I have been looking for a John Shaw born in 1796 and the only one so far that I have found is <John Shaw first child of Jeremiah & Susannah Shaw b. 10 June 1796 in SC. Married 1. Neoma (?) 2. Sarah Harnage...think they lived in Liberty Co.>

The John Shaw we are looking for would have been born earlier than 1796 and was probably married to a Martin. If I find anything will let you know. Anne in Isle of Wight and other parts of the state. Thomas Moon died in 1742 in Brunswick County, which then included a large part of Southside Virginia; by 1744, Robert Moon was living in what is now Pittsylvania County and the name is found in the part of Pittsylvania that eventually became Henry and then Franklin County. Two brothers, Jacob and William, bought land in Albemarle County, Va., in 1750. William remained there and died in 1800, but Jacob sold out in 1777 and moved to Bedford County. Considerable data may be found in the above and successor counties, with names familiar later in Georgia, as well as in the Carolinas. By 1785, Jacob and William Moon were living in Wilkes County, Ga. and the family is found subsequently in Oglethorpe County. Matthew Moon was on the first Jackson County jury in January, 1797, and John Moon in 1799 witnessed a deed for William Carter, above. Boler and Jesse were listed in the 1805 Jackson lottery. On Aug. 17, 1810, William Stewart sold land which he had taken legal ownership of earlier that year, which land had been granted to William Hillhouse and sold by him to William Bailey of Maryland, and by Bailey's attorney, Thomas Moon to Harris and Williamson, who sold it to Stewart; Thomas Moon appears to have been in Jackson before 1810. In 1820 Robert Moon (No. 1028) also was enumerated in Jackson County. In Madison County were Achilus (Archelaus, a name found in Bedford County, Va.), Bird, David, Jacob, John, and John Moon Jr. Others of the family in 1820 were in Columbia, Chatham, Hancock, Elbert and Oglethorpe Counties, Ga. In 1827, William was living in Lindsey's district of Jackson County and Thomas was in Moon's district. Robert left a will in Jackson County.

Harley Shaw was listed in the 1805 Jackson County lottery list; in 1820, Haley, a Revolutionary soldier, drew in the Jackson lottery land in Irwin County granted Jan. 16, 1832. Haley, along with Mark and Robert Shaw, were enumerated 1790 in Laurens District, S.C., Also enumerated in Jackson 1820 were Joseph (No. 638), Joseph (No. 831), and Elijah Shaw (No. 896). In 1827, George Shaw was living in Allen's district of Jackson County. Rebecca Shaw (No. 631) was enumerated in Gwinnett County 1820, and in Clarke County were Elizabeth, Jane, Martha and William Sr. John of Hall County, also a Revolutionary soldier, in 1827 drew Lee County land granted July 1, 1843.

Benjamin Porter of Wilkes County, Va., sold Feb. 8, 1802 to Miles Gathright of Jackson County, land on Mulberry Fork of Jackson originally granted to Mr. Doster. Benjamin, apparently from Orange County, Va., was taxed there 1782-1785 and in Wilkes County, Ga., 1785, and is subsequently found as a resident of Richmond County, Ga., with wife Patsy Claiborne, and in Wilkes County until his death. In 1812, he was appointed guardian of William, son of David Anglin, a family with Jackson County connections. Benoni Hansford (who was surety for the marriage bond in Orange County, Va., Nov. 11, 1782, of Charles Porter Jr. and Betsy Proctor) sued Benjamin Porter of Wilkes County, Ga., c1791, and there are other references to Orange County in the estate of Nicholas Porter in Wilkes County running from 1793 to 1824. The Wilkes County will of Thomas Porter, brother of Benjamin, (May 20, 1817/Jan. 4, 1819), referred to his land in Jackson County, and his children including Martha Hansford Porter. Benjamin married, second, Cecilia Walton in Wilkes County, July 25, 1820, and his will, dated April 12, 1821, probated

SHAW is from the old English word "schagh", descriptive of a small grove of trees. This term was used in north England near the Scotch border. The titled branch of the Shaws lived in Ayrshire, Scotland. Their family motto was "I mean well". Their coat-of-arms has three covered gold cups on a blue shield. John Shaw of England settled at Plymouth, Mass., in 1630.

A Query:

I was referred to a Mr. Tom Shaw, Jr., of Mineola, Texas, who had kindred in Walker County, Georgia. Letter to him was returned. Question: Does anyone know his current address? My letter dated 9/26/1958 returned by Post Office. - Shelia A. Shaw, 2525 Oak St., Jacksonville 4, Fla.

SHAWS in the History of Walker County, Georgia - This book is in print so the excerpt will not be run in this quarterly. These SHAWS are kin to the Editor, and the book is in my library. In the Cemeteries given, the Shaw Family Plot contains 7 graves, and the Shaw Graveyard contains about 350 graves and was established 1840. Jessie Mercer SHAW, son of Amos and Sara Wagner Shaw is sketched in this book. At the time of the publication of the book, his youngest son lived in the old Shaw home, the third generation. According to this author, James Alfred Sartain, Hyram Shaw and H. G. Fuller, half brothers came about 1835-36 and settled Walker Co., Ga.

THE SHAW CHILDREN OF AMERICA, TSC (abbreviated), is in its infancy, a crawling babe in the woods! Much will depend upon you readers and members to spread the word of its existance, its birth; to send us names of other SHAW descendants who may be interested in their family history, not just SHAW names picked at random as the cost of contacting all by the name would be prohibitive. Send us your SHAW data; your census notes; your cemetery notes; your queries; your pedigree charts. HELP us to grow. You are the sponsors of this new potential for solving your SHAW problems. Support us that we may not die in our infancy. THANK YOU! - (Editor)

WILLIAM SHAW of Maryland

- Reference: The following is taken from pages 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, of records contained in DAR Atlanta Chapter Family Records, Revolutionary Soldiers; 1949-1950; on file in the Georgia Department of Archives & History. This is the Shaw line to which my ancestor, William Shaw, of Walker County, Georgia, belongs, but all of this material has not been checked or proven for our own benefit. The compiler was a descendant of one who moved on into Alabama, while my own grandfather, George Benjamin Shaw, was born in Walker County, though he knew it in his day as Chatooga County. (Editor).

William Shaw (1) was born in England, came to America and settled in Maryland. Married Margaret STRONG (sister of Christopher STRONG). They had three sons, viz.: William; Christopher, and James Shaw.

He made his will April 4, 1718, and it was probated June 27, 1718. (Abstract from Book of Maryland Wills). Mentions Wife, Margaret...I leave to my sons, viz. William, Christopher (named for his uncle Christopher) and my youngest son James, and to my wife Margaret --- all my Estate personal and real, in whether here in Maryland or in Great Britain -----(signed) William Shaw... Witnesses - William Young; Robt Orains; John Reid.

James Shaw (2) (William (1)), was born in Maryland, married Jane ----; was living in Dorchester Co. Nantorcoake Hundred with wife, 3 sons, and four daughters. (Record). He was a member of the Colonial Militia of Maryland, and a landed Proprietor. (Abstract from Maryland Calendar of Wills).

James Shaw (2) made his will in Maryland, Nov. 13, 1780; and it was probated Nov. 21, 1780. Mentions:
Daughters: Nancy; Sarah; Martha, Jane.
Sons: John, William, and James Shaw.
Grandson - William Shaw.

John Shaw (3) (James (2), William(1)) born Jan. 29, 1763 Maryland; died in Green Co., Ga. Jan. 1848. Married 1786, Mary _____, born in Ga. 1760; died in Greene Co., Ga. May 1851.

John Shaw (3) was a Revolutionary Soldier of North Carolina. He enlisted 1777 as a substitute for Hethcote Pickett of Caswell Co. N. C. Served later as private in Capt. George Odam's Co., 4th N. C. Regiment under Col. Williams Regiment attached to Gen. Caswell's Brigade, served six months including Gates defeat. Was drafted and served three months under Capt. Nathaniel Dickerson, Col. Moore, and Gen. Butler. Volunteered next and served under Capt. Dudley Reynolds and Capt. Nathaniel Dickerson. Volunteered another term and served Col. Moore, marched to Wilmington and remained there until Cornwallis surrendered, when he returned. (From Pension of John Shaw, Rev. Sol. on file National Pension Archives, Washington, D. C.) He drew land as a Rev. Soldier in the 1827 Lottery of Georgia.

John Shaw (3) was also a Soldier of the War of 1812, served in 1807 to 1809 as a member of the Georgia Militia from Greene Co. (Ref. Book Ga. Mil. Rec. 1779-1839 on file Ga. State Dept. of Archives and History). He came to Georgia 1786 and settled in Warren Co., Green Co. was cut off from Warren Co. and their plantation was in Greene Co. on Hart's Creek. (Records of his lands on file Greene Co. Court House, Greensboro, Ga.) Paid taxes 1794 on Hart's Creek, 150 acres, Warren Co., Ga. and 150 acres on Sthrer Creek, Warren Co.

John Shaw made his will Greene Co., Ga. Sept. 29, 1829, and it was probated Jan. 12, 1848. Mary Shaw, his widow, made will Nov. 21, 1850; probated May 5, 1851. Children (from wills on file Greene Co. Ga.; also page 183 herein):

1. Nancy, mar. -----Ray.
2. Amos Shaw (oldest son, and executor of will, was born 1789, Oglethorpe Co., Ga.; died 1859; married Sara Wagner of Va.) (Editor's progenitor).
3. Elizabeth Shaw md. a Mr. Fambrough; was he J. M. Fambrough?
4. William Shaw (born 11 Feb. 1792, Warren Co. Ga.; died in Coosa Co. Ala. July 1882. Will May 1, 1869, probated there July 31, 1882. He married in Morgan Co. Ga. May 27, 1814, Elizabeth (Betsey) Page born in South Carolina 1792, died in Coosa Co. Ala. July 24, 1875; she was dau. of Thomas Pate and Lucy Adams of Va. and Ga. They lived in Morgan Co., (1813), Henry Co., and in 1820 removed to Alabama, Coosa Co. Soldier of the War of 1812, Morgan Co. Ga. Militia. (etc.).
5. George Shaw, born 1796, died 1877, md. Jane Patterson. (More about this son available through a descendant who has willingly shared with us her data, Mary Elizabeth Sanders, 2111 St. Charles Ave., New Orleans, La.)
6. John or Jack Shaw, md. 18 Nov. 1818 Della Findley
7. Mary Shaw md. Seaborn Harris
8. Miles Shaw
9. Sally Shaw md. -----Jackson

The above list of children is not in order and information has been combined from the referenced record and from Editor's files).

William Shaw (4) (John (3), James (2), William (1), and Elizabeth Pate had issue:

1. John F. Shaw born Morgan Co. Ga. June 16, 1816; md. Nancy Jones
2. Catherine, born Ga. Feb. 20, 1818, md. Mr. Butler
3. Joseph P. Shaw, born April 9, 1820.
4. Margaret Jane Shaw, born June 22, 1822,. mar. Mr. Daniel
5. Lucinda Sarah Shaw born April 22, 1824, died Apr. 12, 1895, md. Eli Baker, son of Elijah Baker (additional data in this resume available)
6. Rebecca B. Shaw born July 7, 1826, mar. Mr. Gilleland
7. Thomas E. Shaw born Dec. 1, 1828
8. William L. Shaw born April 5, 1832.

The descendant who submitted this data to D. A. R. was apparently Elsie Martin who married John W. Lunden, 8th generation from William Shaw of Maryland, and she lived in Atlanta, Ga.

As for our line: John the Revolutionary Soldier, above, had son Amos, and he and Sara Wagner Shaw became the parents of William Shaw who married Harriet Harden. William's dates are given simply on tombstone as 1821-1890, while his brother Jesse Mercer who married Mary Camp, is shown as 1824-1903.

William Shaw's son, George Washington Shaw, and his wife Holly Elizabeth Johnston, became parents of my grandfather, George Benjamin Shaw. This William Shaw had also: Arby F., md. Rebecca Johnston; Amos Lafayette md. Helen Wyatt; Jeptha md. Angie Foster; David, unmd.; James (Dr.), md. twice; Annis; Parthenia md. Whittell; two infant sons. Contact with all descendants of these children is desired to complete a family record. (Shelia Ann Shaw, Editor).

the day after—the chiefs achieved respect, safety and an unbroken succession through long centuries amind contending factions. The family talent must have clung to the J. A. Rose who attained rank in the French Revolution government while saving many lives from its 'Terror'; playing a role greater than his fictional counterpart 'the Scarlet Pimpernel.'

ROSS (Map Ref. G 3). The Norman family de Ros were established in North Ayrshire in the 12th century, and from the same quarter installed a fresh branch over two centuries ago by purchasing the Balnagowan seat of the unrelated Clan Ross chiefs. Hence many Rosses in the South, in the Moray to Aberdeen sector, and some in Ross-shire itself are really of the same ancestry as Clan Rose, pronounced also Ross.

The Ross clan, otherwise Anrias from a 13th-century chief MacGilleAndreas, 'son of a devotee of St Andrew,' took name from the province of which their earlest chiefs were Earls. They served with Bruce at Bannockburn and came to possess a large section of Ross-shire, but lost much power after Harlaw 1411 (Map, J 5) and the 1476 forfeiture of the earldom to the crown. In more recent times Rosses have earned front rank in such spheres as Polar Exploration, and Tropical Medicine.

SCOTT (Map Ref I 8). The first recorded of this surname, originally spelt Scot, was Uchtred filius Scoti ('son of a Scot,' i.e. not Saxon or Norman) about 1124, and his grandsons are believed to have founded the branches of Buccleuch and of Balwearie in Fife; from which in turn came many others and a noted clan of the Border. The great Sir Walter is far from the only brilliant star among 'the Saucy Scotts.' Michael Scot, 'the Wizard' of Balwearie, contemporary scientist with the 13th-century Roger Bacon, then the 17th-century Sir John Scot of Scotstarvit, another sane eccentric, and David Scott among our finest painters are three that merit fuller appreciation.

SHAW (Map Ref. H 4). The Highland Shaws were a branch of Clan Chattan, and claim descent from the 12th-century Seach or Shiach mentioned as founder of the Macintosh clan. First settled at Rothiemurchus in Strathspey, with an islet-fortress in Loch nan Eilean, the clan became broken up when their Chief of 1595 was dispossessed. Sections attached themselves to Macintosh and MacPherson, whilst many migrated over the Lairig Ghru into Aberdeenshire, and the playwright George Bernard Shaw descends of a Dublin branch. The name Shaw was then adopted as sounding like the original Gaelic. However in the Lowlands it means 'a small wood,' and had been a family surname in Renfrewshire since the 13th century, with its own branches spreading later to Stirlingshire, and through Ayrshire to Galloway.

SINCLAIR (Map Ref. I 2). The St Clairs first arrived in England with William the Conqueror, then in the Scotland of David I a branch became settled at Roslin, near Edinburgh. From 1379 these gave name to Scotland's most northerly clan and acquired its chiefship by a marriage to the heiress of the earldom of Caithness. Apart from local feuds with the Gunns and others, Sinclairs have frequently distinguished themselves in Scottish history. One Sir William fell in Spain, 1330, with the Douglas who was bearing Bruce's heart to the Holy Land. Then to Sinclairs green is counted unlucky, since so many of them wearing it fell with their Chief at Flodden, 1513. Sir John Sinclair of Ulbster, painted by Raeburn as Commander of the Fencible regiment he raised in 1794, was a most practical idealist, forerunner of social surveys and planned agriculture, and first originated the word 'Statistics.'

SKENE (Map Ref. K 4). The Skenes took their name from the place in Aberdeenshire they had occupied some time before Robert Bruce in 1317 granted Robert de Skene a baronial charter. W. F. Skene, the 19th-century historian of the Celts, believed his ancestor this Robert to be descended from an early Chief of Clan Robertson. Skene chiefs fell in several national battles, at Harlaw, Flodden and Pinkie.

STEWART (Map Refs. F 7, H 6, H 8). The surname Stewart is the same as Steward, indicating the official in charge of the household and treasury, whether of the king or of some court-holding earl or bishop. It was from Walter fitz Alan, the Norman noble appointed by David I hereditary High Steward of Scotland with personal estates in Renfrewshire, that the Stewart kings descended. But Walter's influential family and descendants had established various separate branches of Stewarts before their main line attained its Royal status. This occurred through another Walter, the 6th High Steward, who fought at Bannockburn, marrying King Robert Bruce's daughter Marjory: their son became Robert II the first Stewart king, when David II died childless in 1371. From then on the Stewart dynasty's strengths and weaknesses, self-sacrificing leadership mingled with unremitting obstinacies, brought no little of the clan spirit into national history.

Previous to 1371, Walter's uncle Sir John Stewart of Bonkill, who fell at Falkirk 1298, left seven sons. The first three founded respectively the Stewart earldoms of Angus, Lennox, and Galloway.

K. OATH OF ALLEGIANCE (Not Dated)

Exactly when or why the following document was signed by more than 150 Georgians remains unknown. Perhaps Georgia Patriots in 1783 required Georgians of questionable loyalty to sign this document in order for them to remain in Georgia temporarily. The original document is four pages long and made of silk. It is filed under "Georgia Declaration of Independence" in the Keith Read Collection, Special Collections, University of Georgia Libraries. All names on the original document are signatures. The editor would like to thank Dr. Kenneth Coleman of the University of Georgia for his ideas concerning this oath.

We and each of us do truly and sincerely acknowledge, profess, testify, and declare that the State of Georgia is and of right ought to be, free, Sovereign, and Independent and do swear to bear true faith and allegiance to the said State and defend the same against traitors, conspiracies, and all hostile attempts whatsoever, and that we do renounce objure, all Allegiance subjection, and obedience to the King of Great Britain. And that no foreign prince, person, prelate, state or potentate hath or ought to have any jurisdiction, superiority, pre-eminence, authority and power which is or may be vested by their constituents in the Congress of the United States. And I do further testify and declare that no man or body of men hath or can have any right to absolve or discharge me from the obligation of this oath, declaration and affirmation and that I do make this acknowledgement profession, testimony, declaration, denial, renunciation and abjuration, heartily and truly according to the common meaning and acception of the foregoing words, without any equivocation mental evasion or secret reservation whatsoever. So Help Me God!"

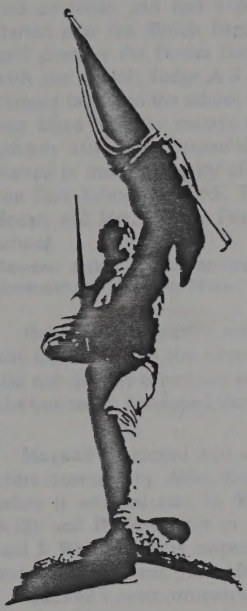
HISTORY OF JASPER COUNTY, GEORGIA



Compiled and Sponsored

Jasper County
Historical Foundation, Inc.

"William Jasper, for whom the county was named, was only a sergeant during the War, but more useful than many who wore epaulettes . . . at the Battle of Fort Moultrie . . . when the flagstaff was shot off he jumped over and recovered it. His rescue of . . . prisoners at the spring near Savannah is known to all. In 1779 he . . . put the flag on the Fort at Savannah and was shot. On his deathbed he said, "I have got my furlough . . . give this sword (presented to him at Fort Moultrie) to my father and tell him I have worn it with honor . . . and . . . died with the hope of a better life."

1899 it had two cotton gins (S.J. Kelly and T.C. Tucker), a Justice of the Peace, T.P. Shy and Notary Public O.P. Aiken and shared the services of Dr. A.F. Spears with Kelly. At one time it was incorporated but just when it gave up its charter is unknown. The community has supported at least one store and often two churches, and had a post office until the 1970's. A private school was started near the Shiloh Baptist Church on Ga. Highway 142 in the 1880's on land given by the Doster family. Three Jasper Countians were closely connected with the school, Judge A.S. Thurman, Walter S. Hill and George Persons. Mr. Persons taught in the school for a number of years. After World War I the school was taken into the county system. The children were sent to the Monticello schools after some consolidation in the 1950's. A public black school was started in the community after World War I. It was consolidated with Washington Park School in 1965. The last teachers in the Farrar schools were Grace Spears and Mrs. Johnny Fears at the white school and Celia Kelly at the black school.

Hopewell Community was founded in the 1830's around the Hopewell Baptist Church. Since the community was so slosely associated with the church it did not develop a business section. The community of Maxwell was close by and the businesses developed there.

Maxwell developed into a thriving community in the early 1830's around the store operated by Allen Kelly. The store was important until the early 1860's when it was operated by William Kelly. The Maxwell Post Office was in the Kelly and Phillips Store in 1899. R.L. Harper was the blacksmith, E.H. Kelly and J. Whitfield were carpenters and builders. Kelly and Phillips also had a cotton gin and saw and grist mills and the doctor was E.H. Adams.

Maxwell's most prosperous period was from the 1880's to the 1920's. All of the businesses were grouped around the store and there were about thirty families within a mile. In the 1890's a telephone line was run from the Kelly Store to the Planters' Warehouse in Monticello. This line was used by the cotton buyers to get the daily cotton prices which were telegraphed to Monticello by Western Union. After a few months another line was run to the store at Bethel and on this beginning the telephone system for Monticello and Jasper County was built.

Mechanicsville

George White in his 1849 "Statistics of Georgia" states that Mechanicsville was one of only five communities in Jasper County to have a post office. (The others were Monticello, Shady Dale, Hillsborough, and Palo Alto.) It was located on present Georgia Highway 221 near the Ocmulgee River, and many of the workers at Ocmulgee Mills lived there. There were 39 farms in the community in 1883, and in 1899 the number of business establishments noted in the Business Directory gives evidence of its importance in the economy of Jasper County of the period. The postmaster was H.V. Edwards, Justice of the Peace was H.E. Connally, Notary Public was M.P. Stone. A.J. Leston was the blacksmith; carpenters and builders were M.P. Stone and W.C. Warren, who also had a sawmill; other sawmills were owned by J.B. White, N.H. Leverett and H.V. Edwards, the latter two of whom owned grist mills too; the dentist was S.R. Smith and the doctor was W.A. Shaw; W.B. Fields and Son were millwrights and there were three general stores, H.V. Edwards, A.S. Hardy and Sanders and Barnes; Mrs. Hattie Smith was the music teacher and Rev. W.D. Cornwell the pastor of the Missionary Baptist Church. The community of Hardy's Crossroads was also on route 221 at the intersection of present route 212. Two schools at Mechanicsville, Eureka and Warren's Academies, served the children of both communities.

Gladesville

Little is known about the former town of Gladesville. It is thought that this was not the original name of the settlement. Tradition says it was a point for shipping farm products down the Ocmulgee River as early as 1811. Evidence of sites of former buildings shows that there were at one time as many as fifty houses and stores in the vicinity. The old Gladesville Ferry was still in operation in the 1950's when the bridge over the Ocmulgee River was built and Georgia Highway 83 was paved connecting Monticello and Forsyth through Gladesville. Gladesville had a post office but no postmaster listed in 1899. W.A. Morgan and S.H. Malone were Justices of the Peace and F.E. Jenkins was Notary Public.

Other old settlements in Jasper County are Tyler's Crossroads on Clay Road between Gladesville and Smith's Mill; Aikenton and Athon near Shady Dale; Ward's and Parrot's Station near the Putnam County Line, and Waters' Bridge on Georgia 212 at the Newton County Line.

rapid growth for Bethlehem Church. During the 1840's the church had the largest Sunday School in the county.

With the coming of the railroad to Monticello in the 1880's the population began to shift towards the center of the county and membership at Bethlehem decreased. During the period from 1887 to 1895 the membership was reduced to less than 15 members and records were not kept as they should have been. On Oct. 8, 1904, Rev. J.N. Pounds was elected pastor. He began a revival of the church, but resigned on Dec. 10, 1904 to become the home missionary for six County Central Association. Rev. Z.M. Leveritt was elected pastor and continued the revival. Rev. Pounds was home missionary for 5 years but was killed when a train struck his buggy near Shady Dale in 1910. Newspaper stories of the period say that he was "much beloved" by the people in the county.

In 1938, Rev. O.S. Patrick was elected pastor and began yet another revival of the church. At the same time E.L. Chafin was elected clerk and began his long association with Bethlehem. He served as clerk from 1938 until 1975.

In recent years, Bethlehem Church has undertaken a number of new projects: In 1960, a new piano was dedicated. A new roof was put on the church in 1970. A new fellowship building was dedicated in 1975, and new air conditioning and heating systems were installed in 1975.

Hopewell Baptist Church – Hopewell Community

Hopewell Baptist Church was organized in Conference on April 16, 1847 when 17 members of Providence and Monticello Baptist Churches met with the Rev. James Carter. A short time previously a group of Presbyterians had organized a church in the same community and for a short time the two denominations shared the small meeting house. But after 1846 the Presbyterians had disbanded and their members had either joined the Monticello Presbyterian Church or had gone on further west. At the April 16, 1847 meeting it was decided to keep the name Hopewell as the name of the church. Records of the church show that on Sunday, April 18, 1847, Rev. Carter was joined by Rev. T.U. Wilkes and Rev. William Jarrell and after a sermon proceeded into Conference where the letters of the prospective members were examined, a constitution was adopted and William H. Preston was elected clerk. A few weeks later, the church adopted a set of rules of decorum. These rules were:

1. Any male member who is absent from Conference shall give his excuse for that absence at the next meeting of Conference. His excuse shall be ruled on as acceptable or un acceptable by the Moderator, Clerk and two Deacons.

2. When Conference is called to order all members shall take their seats and shall not engage in laughter, or idle talk. They shall give their full attention to business.

3. Any member who wishes to speak shall stand and address the Moderator. He will not begin to speak until he is recognized by the Moderator. He shall not be interrupted unless he depart from the subject or use unbecoming language.

4. No member shall speak on a subject more than three times unless given permission by the Moderator.

Rule number 1 was to cause some discontent later when some excuses were accepted and others were not. On Sunday, Oct. 31, 1847, Rev. Carter was elected permanent pastor. Also Hosiah, manservant of Mr. Samuel H. Blackwell, was accepted as the first black member, he having been a member of another Baptist church before becoming the property of Mr. Blackwell.

In 1849, a conference decided to hold separate services each Sunday afternoon for the black members of the congregation. Also in 1849, Rev. Carter informed the church that his duties at Providence were such that he would be unable to serve as pastor. Rev. William Atkinson was elected and served until 1855 when he moved to Harris County. This was the beginning of a close association between Hopewell and churches in Harris County. They often exchanged lay ministers over the next 10 years.

In was during the period of Rev. Atkinson's ministry that discontent surfaced over Rule no. 1 in the rules of decorum. Dr. Shaw who had been absent the week before, submitted as his excuse that the subject of Rev. Atkinson's sermon had been "Baptism." On the previous Saturday he had discussed the subject with Rev. Atkinson and found that they disagreed on certain points. Not realizing it was a conference Sunday he had absented himself. His excuse was not accepted. A few months later, Dr. Shaw moved his membership to Shiloh.

In the 1850's the church began a number of small mission churches. This activity was carried on mostly by members who were ordained as ministers by the church. They were called "lay ministers." Some of these missions were listed as Bethel, Liberty and Kelly.

During the 1860's the minutes often show the following "Excused from Conference to satisfy Military Committment," showing that many of the men were serving in the Confederate Army.

The church is active today, holding services the third Sunday each month. It is served by the pastor of the Monticello First Baptist Church.

Bethel Baptist – Bethel

Bethel Baptist Church had its beginning as a mission of the Hopewell Church in 1852. The first meeting place of the Bethel Church was in an old log schoolhouse just in front of the old Zed Piper place. The mission grew quickly and by 1855 it asked to become a sister church to Hopewell.

A committee composed of L.R.L. Jennings, William G. McMichael, John Skipper, and Cader Malone met for the purpose of constituting a church at Bethel Station. Bethel Station was a stage stop on the "Seven Islands Road" between Greenesboro and Flovilla. The meeting was opened with singing and a prayer. After a constitution sermon was preached, the committee proceeded with the examination of letters of transfer. After the examination on the articles of faith, the members presenting themselves were declared a church; Bro. Cader Malone delivered the charge.

The church then went to the discussion of a name and the name Bethel was agreed upon. Next, the church went into conference and the following matters were taken up: 1) The doors of the church were opened to new members. 2) W.S.

Chapter IX

MEDICINE AND DOCTORS

By Marcia Carnes

Medicine and medical care in the early days of the county were rudimentary to say the least. The medicine was home-grown and/or homemade by wives and mothers, and a doctor (if one was available) was called only in the most serious cases. The typical doctor's office contained supplies of medicines, a scale, instruments such as scalpels and probes, and an amputation kit with saws of three sizes. The sterilization of instruments by boiling was unheard of. They were probably cleaned by wiping with carbolic acid. Cathartics of various kinds (blue mass pills and others) were standard treatment for many ills; quinine from the chinchona bark was used for malaria and as a tonic; opium and its derivative, laudanum, were freely used as painkillers and caused frequent addiction into the 20th century. The local newspapers in the 1880's carried regular ads for "painless home cures" and local deed books show the financial ruin of reputed laudanum users.

When making house calls the doctor traveled to remote parts of the county, on horseback, by buggy, and later by automobile, carrying his "pharmacy" with him. Pills were rolled with mortar and pestle, liquid doses mixed in the kitchen. He traveled in all kinds of weather, delivered babies, sometimes did operations on kitchen tables or sat all night with a dying patient when his skills and knowledge were exhausted. He was an important part of the community, and a friend and counselor to all.

Some of Jasper County's earliest doctors were Dr. David A. Reese and Dr. Reuben C. Shorter (see articles), Dr. Moses Champion (1791-1838), and Dr. Milton Antony (1789-1839). Dr. Antony studied medicine in Philadelphia (perhaps as a classmate of Shorter from whom he later purchased two city lots in Monticello). In 1809 he m. Nancy Godwin in the Wilkes County home of his mentor, Dr. Joel Abbott. (This was later the Robert Toombs home.) In 1811 Antony's ad in a Milledgeville newspaper "takes this method of informing the inhabitants of Randolph County . . . in Monticello . . .that having received a full assortment of medicines and instruments he holds himself in readiness . . . for those who may think proper to favor him with their calls." Dr. Antony practiced in Monticello for seven years and later founded the Medical College of Georgia in Augusta. In 1812 he performed a remarkable operation reported in the Philadelphia Journal in which "he successfully excised portions of the 5th and 6th ribs . . . and lung tissue." (This without benefit of anesthetic.)

What is believed to be the day book of Dr. W.D. Maddux (1814-1901) shows that the majority of medical care went to slaves and their white owners. Bills for the care of wives and children of the family heads were very infrequent. Various charges were: Venesection (bloodletting) - $1.00; accouchement (delivery) - $10.00, or $15.00 for a "tedious accouchement"; setting a fractured arm - $25.00; visit and medicine - $1.00; visit noct. (night) - $2.50; and visit and dressing wound - $15.00. This book covered the years 1859-1864.

Other 19th century doctors were: G.M. Clements, S.M. Anderson, J.T. Garland, A.S. Holland, J.J. Boring, J.H. Bullard and J.L. Roby from the 1884 Directory; and N.Z. Anderson, A.F. Spears, J.H. Bullard, W.A. Shaw, E.H. Adams, W.M. Bullard, J.C. Coile, J.U. Webb, J.B. Thurman, and I.P. Kendall from the 1899 Directory. Dr. G.R. Dozier (1841-1889) built an office building on the square in 1883. It was demolished during the Better Home Town contest in 1954, the last wooden building on the square. Dr. Gibson Cornwell practiced briefly in Hillsboro, as did Dr. James T. Smith in Monticello.

Epidemics of contagious diseases were greatly feared and on May 20, 1882, the Jasper County News reported that because of the many cases of smallpox in Gladesville, a group of citizens had come in to Monticello to request that a "pesthouse" be set up there. The article continued that Dr. F. Walker had investigated in Gladesville and said that there was no evidence of pox. In the same issue it was noted that "Conyers and Toccoa have quarantined against Atlanta and the smallpox."

Among the doctors of the early 20th Century were Dr. Ridley of Hillsboro; Dr. Carey, whose office was over Benton Supply Co.; Dr. Jim Payne; Dr. J.V. Davis, who lived in the Hitchcock-Roberts house; Dr. James Prevatt, whose office was upstairs over the Gift Gallery with Dr. Sam J. Smith (dentist) and Dr. F.S. Belcher; and Dr. Turner, a black doctor educated at McGill University in Canada, according to Jack Belcher. In 1909 a group of eight doctors drew up a minimum fee schedule for Jasper County. "Day visit in town $2.00; Night visit in town $3.00; Day visit, country, first mile $2.00, each after mile one way 50 cents; Night visit, country, first mile $3.00, each after mile one way $1.00; Obstetrics, uncomplicated, not over six hours with subsequent visit $15.00; Obstetrics with forceps $25.00 and upwards," etc. Signing the document were Drs. W.M. and J.H. Bullard who were brothers, Chas. T. Ridley, James T. Prevatt, J.V. Davis, E.N. Campbell, F.S. Belcher, and L.M. Ellis.

Four doctors who each practiced in Jasper County for many years deserve mention. Dr. L.Y. Pittard is detailed in the Pittard article. Dr. E.M. Lancaster (1890-1965) of Shady Dale practiced for 42 years. He recorded tombstone inscriptions in sometimes isolated church and familiy cemeteries which he passed on his visits. These were completed, verified, and later published after his death by his widow Mrs. Jewell (Moats) Lancaster. He was reporter for the Kiwanis Club and Shady Dale news reporter for the Monticello News for many years.

Dr. Francis Seals Belcher (1879-1961) was the great-grandson of early (1812) Jasper County settlers, William and Jemima (Smith) Belcher. He attended Atlanta Medical College, which later became Emory University Medical School. He practiced in Jasper County for 60 years, working up to the day before his death. He typified the ideal country doctor who was loved and trusted by his patients. The number of babies he delivered will never be known exactly but is estimated in the thousands by his son Jack who sometimes "dropped ether" for him. J. Marion Stone was delivered in 1919 in the first Caesarean section in Jasper County. Dr. Belcher assisted Dr. Marion T. Benson of Atlanta and the operation was performed on the kitchen table in the Stone home. Miss Florence Ellis was the nurse. As an object lesson on the danger of guns, Dr. Belcher had his son assist him in a home amputation of a boy's leg which had been badly damaged in a shooting accident.

write before he caught her and made her stop.

Burial - [place: Mount Zion Cemetery]

Birth Note

She was named Martha Lucinda at her birth, but did not like the aunt for whom she was named, so changed her name to "Mattie Brooks" in her teens. There is nothing on record about that. Before birth certificates and driver's licenses, it was fairly easy to call yourself whatever you pleased.

Death Note

This compiler was standing beside her bed when she breathed her last.

Event Military - [date: 1864] [place: Civil War]

Narcissa applied for a pension based on his military service. She stated that he served as a private in Company I, 16th Regiment, Alabama Infantry, CSA. She swore that he died of wounds received in the War or of disease contracted during the War and within five years of the end of the war. Since we know that Michael was alive in 1872, she was either mistaken or she embroidered her story a little.
According to Sandra Beavers, the compiled service record at the Alabama Archives indicates he was captured and taken to Camp Douglas in Chicago. Later he was on a report of the Medical Examining Board in Dalton, GA.

Martha and her twin, Mary, were born after the death of Michael BEAVERS and some in the family doubt they were his children. Others insist the timing was okay. Unless we can find an exact date of death for Michael, we may never know.
She was 4'9" and never weighed a 100 pounds in her life. She looked very much like an Indian squaw. She loved music and after somebody finally gave her a radio, she often danced around her house with her broom.
She told me that she could not read and write when she was married. She and Richard lived near a school. She said she "stole" corn from his crib to buy a slate and "slipped off" to the school house. She learned to read and

Notes for ENOCH MILTON HOOTEN:
In going over the Hooten/O'Dell/Kidd papers that I have and putting the info on the computer, I read some of the findings to my husband, Dan Boswell Jordan. His grt grandfather was Enoch Milton Hooten. The Hootens were mainly in Henry Co., GA. This triggered a story from my husband and this is it.

Dan and his sister Polly (younger) would ride the train from Molena, GA to Atlanta, GA to see their maternal grandparents. Since the Grandfather Boswell was a conductor on the train that they rode, they had a great time. It seems that in coming back from Atlanta, the train had to stop in McDonough, Henry Co., GA and back up and switch to another track or something. Dan would take this time to inform his little sister that they were going back to Atlanta and not going home to Molena. She of course believed him and would start to cry because she wanted to get home. Also on these trips, another ruse that he would pull on Polly is that his name was really BUD. That he was a twin and that DAN and he would take turns about living in either Atlanta or Molena and take on the name of the other twin as they wished.

This of course would have Polly really upset and big brother was happy.

The Shaws of Pennsylvania and South Carolina

We know that Gilbert Shaw was born February 15, 1757, in York County, Pennsylvania and moved to York District, South Carolina, about 1765. In his sworn statement made in April of 1834, his brother, William, substantiates these dates in his application for pension in South Carolina. A considerable amount of research by Mr. Clyde L. Groff, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania and Ms. Synthia A. Miller, of Carlisle, Pennsylvania, could not tie in any of the Shaws living in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania to our Gilbert. It is of interest to note that most of the Shaws living in Lancaster and other counties in Pennsylvania during this same period of time, were of Scotch or Scotch-Irish descent and most were Presbyterians. Among the given names of the Shaws living in this area of Pennsylvania during the mid 1700's are several named Daniel, John, Richard, Robert, and Samuel. These subjects were living for the most part in York County but also in Lancaster County as well. Unfortunately, no direct correlation can be made with any of these persons in our ultimate Shaw line, which we can prove, in South Carolina.

We know that Gilbert stated that his family moved to York District, South Carolina, about 1765, then to Union County, about 1775. The question then arises, "Who was his father who accompanied him and his siblings to that area?"

There was a great deal of migration from Pennsylvania to that region of South Carolina, as early as 1750. During this period of time, whole communities moved at one time to new areas. This was the case in South Carolina in which a mass migration took place from Virginia, as well as Lancaster and York Counties in Pennsylvania, to this newly opened region. For this reason, there are several families of Shaws living in the York and Union County Districts. Probably many of them were kinsmen who had moved their families together. Although they did not live side by side in the new territory, they did not live too great a distance apart.

Daniel Shaw was one of these persons. In Vol 12: 335 #3 under Index to South Carolina, Land Title Memorials, we find that Daniel bought property from John Cross, January 3, 1771, 100 acres on Black River in Craven County. This was to become York County. Other Shaws living in the area included: Amos, who bought property January 22, 1763; Andrew, who bought property July 31, 1773; John, who bought property October 8, 1765; and Thomas who purchased property October 11, 1765. This area of York County lies along the Rocky Allison Creek.

At the estate sale of John McCormack held December 6, 1770, among the large number of buyers were Daniel Shaw and Samuel Watson.

Daniel is listed as Jurate by February 12, 1771, thereby earning the title of Esquire for public service rendered.

Daniel and Patrick Shaw were witnesses for a land transaction taking place February 12, 1771, in which Moses Ferguson and Martha, his wife, of Trion County, sold to Thomas McMurry, of same place, for 65 pounds, 171 acres, being part of a grant, April 6, 1765, to Walter Davis, on the west side of the Catawba River, on waters of Rocky Allison Creek. Daniel's title is shown as Jurate as a witness. This establishes a clearer location of the property which he purchased.

The 1779 South Carolina jury list of Ninety Six District is divided into geographical locations, and the families listed in the Spartan District represent the Union District for the time period. Daniel Shaw is listed on both the Grand and the Petit Juries of Spartan District, which means he was a man of substance, paying taxes on personal and real property. The South Carolina jury list was taken from the South Carolina tax list.

Daniel Shaw of Union County, South Carolina, D Book: 20, February 14, 1780: "Robert Anderson to Daniel Shaw, Yeoman, all of Craven County, for 1,200 pounds, sold 302 acres in Craven County, but formerly deeded in Anson County, North Carolina, on the south side of the Pacolet River, on a branch of Clark's Mill Creek, called Jumping Run, including Fairforest Path, originally granted by Arthur Dobbs, Gov. of North Carolina, March 28, 1755, unto Alexander Cathey, Esq., dec'd, later Rowan County, North Carolina, and was conveyed November 7, 1777, by Francis Lock and John Cathey, Executors of the Estate of said dec'd, Alexander Cathey," signed Robert Anderson, Wit. Gilbert Shaw, Patrick Watson Shaw, who swore by oath, November 10, 1794, before John Blassingame, J.U.C.

Daniel Shaw died intestate, probably in the month of September 1783. Patrick Shaw was Administrator of the estate, Administration bond of 2,000 pounds, provided to John Thomson, Jr., Ord. Ninety Six District by Patrick Shaw, Robert Harris, Adam Potter. This is filed under the Probate Judge office for York County, South Carolina; but at that time, the records were kept in Abbeville County, South Carolina. (Note: John Thomson is sometimes known as John Thomas.)

Probate Judge office, loose papers: a list of the debts due to the estate of Daniel Shaw, dec'd, 1 bond upon Robert Howe, dated February 12, 1778, 494.72 pounds; 1 note upon John Fearis, dated December 24, 1776, 80 pounds. In continental money, 104 pounds. In hand money, 1 guinea, 1 pound, signed Patrick Shaw, Adm.

Loose paper, October 21, 1783: appraisement and inventory by David Brown, William Thomson, Adam Potter, Appraisers, Patrick Shaw, Admr.: Three mares, nine head of horses and cattle, two sheep, five hogs, one set of plough irons, two iron pots and skillet and one frying pan, two pewter dishes, one basin, one casting knife of steel, one bar of iron, one lock chain, two cleavers, one set of ? feizens, two maul rings, one wedge one club axe, two bedsteads with one cord, three water pails, one wheel and rial, one shoe hammer, four clears, one chest, one bed and two blankets, one sack bag, _____spoons, forks and two knife, six wooden _____, one man's hat, two coats and two vest coats, one shirt and stock, three sides leather. Signed David Brown, William Thomson, Adam Potter, Appraisers.

Loose papers, October 27, 1783: South Carolina, Ninety Six District: "Pursuant to letters as Administration to me directed under the hand and seal of John Thomson, Jr., Esq., Ord. of said District, I have exposed the estate of Daniel Shaw, dec'd to sell according to law which estate sold for the following sums which were annexed to each persons name: Col. John Thomson, Jr., Est. two maul rings, one iron wedge, one frying pan and six spoons; Patrick Shaw, one casting knife of steel, one shoe hammer, one mare; William Shaw, coat, vest coats, shirt and stock; Daniel Jackson, one bar iron, one side leather, one steer, two cows; Samuel Shaw, two water pails, one ball? ; Samuel Patton, one side leather, one cow; Gilbert Shaw, one mare; Gracy Turbull, one cow; Catherine Shaw, one set of plough irons, cleavers, and two iron pots, kettle, pewter plates, knives and forks, blanket, two bedsteads, gagg and hacket, one side leather, two bells, one mare, five hogs, four head cattle, two sheep, one man's hat." Signed, Patrick Shaw, Administrator.

On the basis of this sale, plus additional information, we know that Patrick, William, Samuel, and Gilbert Shaw were brothers, sons of Daniel Shaw.

Undoubtedly, Catherine Shaw had married Daniel's son, Daniel, Jr., who was killed in the Revolutionary War, and he left her with two small children. The place and date of his death is not known. However, Catherine was paid an annuity for herself and the two children.

What is the relationship of John Thomson, Jr.? His father, John Thomson and he were living in the Fairforest area in 1779, and perhaps earlier. John, Sr.'s will was written December 28, 1780, and he died in October 1783 approximately the same time as Daniel Shaw. The Thomsons were neighbors and friends of not only the Shaws, but John Davidson, Sr., had witnessed John Thomson's will.

What are the other circumstances that tie Daniel's children to him?

Both Daniel Shaw and Patrick Shaw were witnesses, February 12, 1771, to the land sale, between Moses Ferguson and Martha, his wife, and Thomas McMurry.

A Daniel Shaw, in 1779, served on the Petit Jury list in the Allison Creek area of York County, South Carolina. It appears that this is Daniel Shaw, Jr., since it is a Petit Jury and not a Grand Jury list.

Both Gilbert and Patrick Watson Shaw, witnessed their father's purchase of property on February 14, 1780, from Robert Anderson.

Patrick Shaw is listed in the July 1788 and October 1789 court terms in York County, in a suit against James Sumril, a name familiar to the Shaws in the 1760 land records. This is in the same geographical location where Daniel Shaw had lived.

On December 29, 1783 buyers of the effects of John Thomson included Patrick and William Shaw.

We know that John Thomson was born 1744, in York County, Pennsylvania and that he married Margaret Ann Wallace b. 1766 in Pennsylvania. He was a Captain of the militia in South Carolina. He had seven children. No evidence is shown that any of them married a Shaw or a Davidson.

Of course, there is a possibility that Daniel left daughters as well as sons. However, the only real evidence we have on this is the estate of Thomas Barron, in Abbeville County court house, which was administered March 8, 1784 by Mary Barron, Gilbert and Samuel Shaw. It is highly unlikely that either Gilbert or Samuel would have been administrators of this estate, along with Mary Barron, if she had not been a kinsman of theirs; more probably, a sister. Thomas Barron was killed in the Revolution and his widow Mary received an annuity for herself and two children. In 1791, Adam Potter collected the annuity for them. Adam Potter was also the administrator with Patrick Shaw on Daniel Shaw's estate. It is known that Adam Potter married Ann Henderson, daughter of Samuel Henderson, therefore, no known kinship exists between the Potters and Shaws.

All of the known sons of Daniel served in the American Revolution. Little is known about what transpired as far as Daniel Shaw, Jr.'s service is concerned. However, Gilbert, Patrick, Samuel, and William all served at one time or another under Colonel Brandon of Brandon's Regiment from Union County.

Gilbert and William moved around the latter part of the 1780's to Greene County, Georgia. Patrick remained in Union County, South Carolina, in the Fairforest area. He purchased property on February 23, 1786 from Mark Jackson and Elizabeth his wife — 200 acres, on the branch of Fairforest, on Mitchels Creek.

On February 9, 1795, Patrick bought from William Young, for 50 pounds, 100 acres, on Mitchels Creek.

On December 22, 1801, Patrick sold to Richard Thompson for $180, 100 acres on the south side of Fairforest, on both sides of McClure Creek.

On October 11, 1806, Hugh McBride, sold to Patrick Shaw and Richard Thompson for $150, 100 acres, land originally granted Joseph Park, on south side of Fairforest Creek on both sides of McClure Creek.

On March 3, 1807, Margaret Shaw, wife of Patrick Shaw, relinquished her dower right, before Hugh Means, J.Q. On December 3, 1807, Patrick Shaw sold to Joseph Howard for $500, 436 acres including a tract granted to Mark Jackson, also a tract of 100 acres granted to Samuel Patton.

The question arises, "Who was Daniel Shaw's wife?" There is only one clue. On March 12, 1814, Rebecca Shaw and Nicholas Harris, Jr., sold to Nathan Gist, all of Union District, South Carolina, for $800, 302 acres, on a branch of Clarks Mill Creek called Jumping Run, including the Fairforest Path. Signed: N. Harris, Rebecca Shaw, Wit. William F. Gist, Richard Thomson. The significance of this transaction is that this is the same property which Daniel had purchased in 1780.

Because the full acreage of 302 acres was being sold to Nathan Gist, it suggests: the property was sold to Nicholas Harris, Jr. while Daniel Shaw was still living, but his wife did not relinquish her dower. Nicholas Harris, Jr. wanted to sell the 302 acres and needed a clear title; therefore, Rebecca joined him in the sale, although this is not in the deed. There is speculation, but not proof, that Rebecca was the second wife of Daniel Shaw. No other information can be found on Rebecca in the Union County South Carolina census. She was probably listed in someone else's household.

Robert Shaw and Margaret

Preponderance of information, rather than ironclad proof, indicates that Robert Shaw was the father of Daniel Shaw, Sr. The following information is factual and the reader can come to his or her own conclusion.

•North Carolina Land Grants in South Carolina, by Brent Holcomb, page 31, file #0468. Warrant: Unto Robert Shaw and George Rennick 800 acres on south side of Catawba River on Rocky Creek, October 5, 1752, by Nath Rice, March 31, 1773, altered to the mouth of Allisons Creek. This land was originally thought to be in North Carolina, but became South Carolina after 1772.

The description of this warrant is vague; however, later warrants say Rocky Allison Creek. Thirteen years later Daniel Shaw migrated from Pennsylvania.

- Vol. 1, p. 235-237, Mecklenburg Co., North Carolina, Deed Abstracts 1763-1779. May 6, 1765, Samuel Watson of Mecklenburg, Sadler, to Robert Shaw, 30 pounds, sold 100 acres on Rocky Allison Creek. Signed Samuel Watson, Wit. James Lusk (?), John Barry.
- File #2471, grant #410; Book 23, p. 284, Warrant: Unto John McCulloh, 200 acres on south side Rocky Allison Creek, adj. Walter Davis, surveyed April 6, 1765, William Tryon. Plat: surveyed for John McCulloh 192 acres on the south side of Allison Creek adjoining Robert Shaw, David Templeton, William Whaley. Issued April 29, 1768.
- May 6, 1769, further references to property granted on Rocky Allison Creek, adjoining Samuel Watson, Robert Shaw and others.
- North Carolina Land Grants in South Carolina, warrant: Unto John Moffet, 200 acres adjoining Robert Shaw, on ridge between Rocky Allison and Big Allison Creek. Dated October 25, 1765.

Robert Shaw died circa 1769, in Tryon County, North Carolina, or that part of North Carolina that became York County, South Carolina. The administrators of his estate were Margaret Shaw and Samuel Watson, April term of court, Tryon County, North Carolina.

Hi,
Well, I actually have two sources. One is a cousin (still trying to unravel that one); her name is Mika Shaw Chatham - dchatham@bellsouth.net, and the other was from a book by Mr. Grady Wilson, Jr. who wrote a book called 'Leaves of the Tree'; History of the Spears and Allied Families. In it he devotes a chapter to the Shaws of Pennsylvania and South Carolina, with later migration into Georgia. I have spoken with him several times over the phone; found him charming and reliable with his research. He has John as the 3rd child of Gilbert Shaw & Mary Davidson, having him married twice with a total of 16 children. First wife was listed as Sophia Wilson; second wife was listed as Elizabeth Lumsden. Do you have the names of the children of both marriages? If not, I'd be happy to copy then off for you.
Sincerely,
Mary Shaw Holt

Hi,
I don't see a Sarah listed for John and Sophia, or for John and Elizabeth, however Charlotte matches with your information for Sarah Charlotte. Who she married is not given, however.
Mr. Wilson list the children as follows: (Mother, Sophia Wilson.
1. Leroy, b 12-25-1818; d 8-1-1862; m Elizabeth Briant 3-31-1839
2. Thomas, b 6-3-1820; d 10-22-1825
3. Lucinda, b 12-7-1821; m Hosea Moreland 9-23-1847
4. Mary, b 12-6-1823; m Robert Spears 11-25-1841
5. Gilbert, b 12-4-1825; m Martha Mitchell 1-12-1851 (you have Lovejoy)
6. Matilda, b 10-17-1827; m Jesse Tucker 9-20-1852
7. James Watson, b 9-25-1829; m Martha Tucker (you have Myrtle Tucker)
8. Tabitha Jane, b 7-5-1831; m Leroy Burns 12-3-1852
9. John W., b 7-22-1834
10. Charlotte, b 9-12-1836 (This must be yours?)
11. Emmalizer, b 6-10-1839; d 9-1-1841
12. Salina, b 9-21-1841; m William Aaron 4-20-1860

Children with Elizabeth Lumsden: 2)
1. (13) Joseph Styles, b 8-11-1644; d 3-9-1903; m (1) Annie Newton 10-7-1874
   (2) Wadie Allen 12-21-1899
2. (14) Calvin K., b 6-10-1846;d 3-13-1864
3. (15) Sophia Willson, b 2-17-1849; d 1-14-1883; m W. Green Kelly 10-8-1874
4. (16) Martin Luther, b 5-5-1852; d 9-16-1856
5. (17) Lindsey Ann, b 4-20-1851; d 7-12-1888; m Seaborn J. Kelly 10-14-1869

It looks pretty close to yours, with the exception of some of the names; nothing too dramatic.
Actually, Mr. Grady Wilson did not have my ancestor listed as one of Thomas's children, but others agree that Thomas was his father. We always thought his name was Milton, but most of the records list him as Minten; married to Anna Kitchens.

15. (17) Lindsey Ann, b 4-20-1851; d 7-12-1888; m Beebom J. Kelly 10-14-1869
It looks pretty close to yours, with the exception of some of the names; nothing too dramatic.

Actually, Mr. Cindy Wilson did not have my ancestor listed as one of Thomas's children, but others agree that Thomas was the father. We always thought his name was Walton, but most of the records list him as Morton; married to Anna Martin.

ty and see; you have no fortifications about you, no, not even to this city 'Tis but one step from Canada hither, and the French may easily come and turn you out of your doors." Hendrick was always the trusty lieutenant of Sir William Johnson, and fought under him at the battle of Lake George in 1755. On learning of the approach of the French, it was proposed to send out a small party to meet them. Hendrick's opinion being asked, he replied, "If they are to fight, they are too few; if they are to be killed, they are too many." The detachment was ordered forward, however, with the white-haired chief and his warriors at the head. At the opening of the action Hendrick was killed. He had been held in the utmost veneration by his tribe, and his fate was correspondingly lamented.

THE MOHAWK PIONEERS.

In July, 1713, a patent was granted to two men named Hansen for two thousand acres of land on the north bank of the Mohawk above Tribes Hill. They soon after settled on the tract, and there is no record of any earlier settlers in the town of Mohawk. A patent for the same amount just west was granted in the next year to John, Edward and Margaret Collins, but they sold to Myndert Wemple, Douw Fonda, and Hendrick A. Vrooman, without, so far as is known, making any settlements. The purchasers, however, settled, and founded some of the famous old families still represented in the town.

Captain Henry Hansen, a son of one of the patentees, was killed and scalped at the time of Johnson's raid in 1780, by an Indian whom he had befriended, and who had expressed great gratitude; his house was burned and the women of the household left homeless. Several of Hansen's neighbors were murdered at the same time. Two others named Bowen are said to have guided the invaders in their attack on the Tribes Hill settlement, being tories who had gone to Canada with the Johnsons. Their father had settled in the neighborhood shortly after the original Hansens.

One of the early settlers in the town, and in this part of it, was Harmen Visscher, the founder of the Visscher family whose eventful history is elsewhere given. On the Hansen patent, the same tract with the Visschers, and adjoining that place on the north, William H. Brower bought one hundred and fifty acres for $1 per acre from his father, who was one of the earliest settlers in the town of Palatine. The purchaser did not occupy this place until after the Revolutionary war, through which he served. One of the actions in which he participated was Montgomery's ill-starred attack on Quebec. On the retreat of the Americans from Canada, Brower had charge of one of the cannon as far as Springfield, Mass., where he was taken with the small-pox. At the close of the war he settled on the land he had bought, and built a log house. He was much troubled by wolves, which killed his sheep and even a colt. In course of time he built another house, which is still standing, being used as a tenement, and is represented on another page in a view of the home of his grandson, H. T. E. Brower. The latter has in his possession a Spanish dollar of the date of 1772, which was the first money his grandfather made on the new place. He got it by burning a tree, and taking the ashes to the potash factory which had been established at Johnstown by Sir William Johnson.

Another Revolutionary veteran, once resident in this town, to which he came in 1784, was Ralph Schenck. * It is claimed by some of the Schenck family that Jan and Roelof Martense Schenck are sons of Marten Schenck of Nydack or Nydeggen, a town about 18 miles southeast from Aix-la-Chapelle; that Marten's father was Peter Schenck of Nydack, b. in 1547 at Goch, a small town about 10 miles south of Cleves, m. in 1580 Johanna Scherpenzeel; and that this Peter was a brother of the celebrated Marten Schenck, a soldier of fortune and an officer of distinction in the wars of the Low Countries. Without the evidence which has been gathered in Holland of the genealogy of the family, the name would imply a relationship to the soldier and warrior, but it is singular, if this account is correct, that the name of Peter does not appear in the family until the fourth generation, when it is well known that it was the custom of the Netherlanders to perpetuate the names of their ancestors, which custom prevails among many of their descendants in this country to this day. These Schencks, according to tradition, owned vessels which traded with the Netherlands, which often, by way of Rockaway Inlet, came into Flatlands or Jamaica Bay to deliver or receive goods from their owners.

There was a "Wessel Schenck" among the members of the company chartered Oct. 11, 1614, for an exclusive trade of three years with the New Netherlands, as per p. 149 of Vol. I. of Doc. of Col. His.

Dearest GA:

I hope that you can give me some more clues on the Sizemore family as I at least found 'a' Letcher Sizemore. But not knowing a time period I still haven't pinned him down with a father.

I checked the 1840 Census Index for KY and mercy, there sure were a lot of Sizemores in KY, mostly ClaytCo., in the 1850 Index where thgy started naming everyone by name in the family, they had started scattering through the cos. and none of the Heads of household were named 'Letcher'.

So doing some educated guessing, I decided to try the 1880 Index which lists only families that had a child in the family unit of 10 yrs or younger. The KA index didn't give anything, so I went back to KY and sure enough, Leslie Co., KY was just flooded with Sizemores !

farm with abundant water, feed, and pasturage was a spot the drivers would plan to reach at nightfall.

About a hundred years more or less after the Crockett colonels and their mother's husband sold this land the husband of a descendant of one of them bought a portion of it from a Nelson and her son, Robert Ward, lives there now. Being a squire who enjoys the confidence and affectionate esteem of folks he writes wills and transacts a mass of minor legal business for people in that valley. He has extensive farming and other interests, and he has done a deal of prospecting for metals in his time. He also hunts birds and other game and keeps fine pointer dogs. He gets a kick out of setting out trees, particularly balsam which is hard to make grow on land lower than mountain tops, and spruce. He is an authority on mountain evergreens. He has a sort of museum of ore specimens and a rare collection of old family and land papers so that genealogists and historical investigators have a way of coming to his home for information.

In 1804 a certain Frederick Slemp took up land on a mountain creek above Sugar Grove and the creek took his name and has kept it. Numerous Slemps descended from him live in and near the village now. One of his sons went to Lee County where he became the grandfather of C. Bascom Slemp.

A man named Jenkins Williams took up a corn right title on the South fork just below Sugar Grove and made there the first clearing in that valley after Joseph and Esther Crockett left. On that clearing the seventh generation of Williams is living now. The first of the line had an iron forge on the river which was the first forge on Holston. Tradition repeats a tale that cannon were made at this forge during the Revolution, but I suspect that the said cannon were the long heavy barrels of the backwoodsmen's muskets. Lead has been found around the abutments of the old forge

CLARKSTON

I. Johann Fridrich Schlemb, the immigrant ancestor of the family, arrived in Philadelphia on 5th October 1767 aboard the Ship Sally out of Rotterdam by way of Cowes, England. The following extract is from Pennsylvania German Pioneers, 1727-1775 by Strassburger, Volume I, Page 713:

List 264 C At the Court House, Philadelphia, October 5th, 1767.
Present: Saml Mifflin, Esquire

The Foreigners whose names are underwritten, imported in the Ship Sally, John Osman, Master, from Rotterdam but last from Cowes, did this day take and subscribe the usual Qualifications. In the List 116. Consigned to Saml Howell. pd 23 Octr 1767, to J.K. L8. 14.

"Johann Fridrich Schlemb" is one among the number.

The name appears as Schlemb, Schlemp and Slimp in the early records. Slemp is a later spelling of the name.

Fredrick Slemp's wife was Mary Metz who was born 1742 and died March 20, 1826, 84 years. The place of Mary's birth is unknown and no record of marriage has been found. She may have been a daughter of Jacob Metz (a palatine) who arrived in Philadelphia 1733 aboard the Ship Eliza out of Rotterdam by way of Dover, England. No proof to confirm this.

Fredrick Slemp moved from Pennsylvania to Virginia sometime before the Revolution, and served in Captain Love's Company of Montgomery County.

Fredrick Slemp and Mary Metz had a large family of children as follows:

1. Jacob Slemp (Slimp)
2. Elizabeth (Elesebeth) (No record)
3. Ury Slemp (Slimp)
4. Michael Slemp (Slimp, b. February 8, 1773
5. Barbara Slemp (Slimp), b. April 3, 1775
6. Caty Slemp (Slimp), m. Oct. 13, 1797 in Wythe County, Virginia, William Twyford.
7. Mary Slemp (Slimp), m. Sept. 20, 1804 in Wythe County, Peter Shoop.
8. Frederick, m. July 1, 1813 in Wythe County, Silvy Linch.
9. John Slemp (Slimp), b. April 8, 1781 in Montgomery County, Va.
10. Julian Slemp (Slimp), m. Sept. 20, 1793 in Wythe County, Jacob Low. Julian Slemp is not named in Fredrick Slemp's will, however, he named a granddaughter, Caty Low. Julian had probably died prior to 1807 when the will was written, or the daughter "Ury" was married under the name Julian.

Fredrick (Frederick) Slemp obtained land in Montgomery County, Virginia, the part which became Wythe County, 1789-90, and the records of the family are found in Wythe County, Virginia.

Frederick Slemp made the following will, recorded in Will Book No. 1, Page 380, Wythe County, Virginia:

Feb. 17th 1807

9. John Slemp (son of Fredrick and Mary) was born April 8, 1781 in Montgomery County, Virginia and died July 4, 1858 of Cancer in Lee County, Virginia. He made his will, dated June 22, 1849, and proved by Elkanah Flanary, Jonathan Richmond, and J.W.S. Morrison, witnesses, at a Court held for Lee County the 16th day of August 1858. Recorded in Will BK 2, Page 178. In the will he referred to himself as John Slimp Senior of Lee County, and named his wife and children. He married about 1809 in Wythe County, Virginia, Alpha Smyth, born about 1790, and died April 25, 1866, probably a daughter of Sebastian Smyth. John Slemp remained in Wythe County (later Smyth), Virginia for a few years after his marriage. October 21, 1823, John Slimp and Alpha his wife, and Frederick Slimp and Selah (Silvy) his wife all of Wythe County and State of Virginia conveyed 147 acres of land lying on the South Fork of Holston River in Wythe County to George W. Davis of Wythe County for $1000 (DBK 9 - 484). This was probably Frederick's and John's shares of the 250-acre survey made for Frederick Sr. October 28, 1798. Sometime after the sale of this land, John Slemp removed to Lee County, Virginia and settled in the Turkey Cove, where on November 3, 1830 he purchased a tract of land lying on Powell River, adjoining the original land owned by Absalom Tickle, Stephen Jones, John Legg and others, containing by survey 311 acres from George W. Davis and Anne his wife of Wythe County for $1984 (DBK 6 - 263). John Slemp became a prosperous farmer in Turkey Cove—a slave owner—and a prominent citizen of the county and the community. By his will he devised his land and slaves to his children after the death of his wife, and appointed his eldest son, Sebastian S. Slemp, Executor of his will.

John Slemp left many descendants, some of whom became the most distinguished in the State of Virginia. Many are still living in Turkey Cove and in Lee County, while still many others have removed from Turkey Cove, Lee County and Virginia and settled and founded homes in various States. John Slemp and Alpha (Smyth) Slemp had seven children:

(1) Sebastian Smyth Slemp, b. Dec. 9, 1810.
(2) Sarah Slemp, m. September 16, 1834 in Lee County, John Ritchie.
(3) Melvina Slemp, b. about 1813.
(4) John Wesley Slemp, b. Sept. 20, 1816.
(5) Hually Slemp, b. June 24, 1818.
(6) Granville W. Slemp, b. about 1820; m. about 1845, Adaline (surname unknown), b. about 1830 in North Carolina. One known son: Clinton, b. about 1848.
(7) Susan Slemp, b. May 18, 1821; d. July 16, 1900; m. John Reasor, son of Daniel and Susannah (Jackson) Reasor. (See the Reasor Family.)

(1) Sebastian Smyth (son of John Sr.) was born in Wythe County, Virginia, December 9, 1810; d. May 22, 1859 in Lee County, Virginia. He was married August 18, 1831 in Lee County by Andrew Hunter, to Margaret Reasor, born January 3, 1811; died July 31, 1871, daughter of Daniel and Susannah (Jackson) Reasor. Sebastian S. Slemp was a member of the Virginia House of Delegates, 1850-52. He was a land owner and a prosperous farmer and an influential citizen of the Turkey Cove in Lee County. On September 26, 1848 he purchased a tract of land, lying on both sides of Powell River in Turkey Cove from Isaiah and Polly Jones, adjoining Joseph K. Olinger and in a line of the Shelby survey...(DBK 11 - 152). He and his wife are buried in the Slemp Memorial Cemetery in Turkey Cove. Children:

1. Henry Clinton Slemp, b. Aug. 6, 1831 (The year should most likely be 1832.)
2. Nervesta Overton Slemp, b. Dec. 11, 1834; d. June 2, 1914; m. July 19, 1852, James Monroe Flanary, b. July 4, 1834; d. Feb. 8, 1915, son of Elkanah and Nancy (Young) Flanary. (See the Flanary Family.)

4. Susan Slemp, b. about 1837-38; m. May 25, 1865, Hiram D. Pridemore.
5. Campbell Slemp, b. Dec. 2, 1839.

On account of the death of his father, he was obliged to leave college before graduating. He engaged in teaching for awhile but when the Civil War broke out, he entered the Confederate Army and was Captain of Company A, Twenty-first Virginia Battalion, was promoted to lieutenant- colonel, and subsequently commissioned colonel of the Sixty-fourth Virginia Regiment, a combined infantry and cavalry command with which he served with ability to the close of the war. After returning home, he engaged in farming, and operating in mining and timber lands. He was a member of the Virginia and House of Delegates 1880-1884. In 1888 he was a presidential elector on the Harrison Ticket, and in 1889, was a candidate for Lieutenant-governor on the ticket with General William Mahone. In 1896 he was a presidential elector on the McKinley ticket. He was elected as a Republican to the fifty-eighth Congress, and re-elected to the fifty-ninth, sixtieth, and sixty-first congresses, serving until his death, October 13, 1907.

Campbell Slemp was married twice. First, July 25, 1861 in Scott County, Virginia, by Reuben Steel, to Mary B. Thomas, born March 20, 1843, daughter of William G. and Ruth Thomas. OBITUARY of C. BASCOM SLEMP

The Post - Big Stone Gap and Appalachia, Va.

Thursday August 12, 1943

On a picturesque knoll overlooking the place of his birth C. Bascom Slemp, 72 year old former Republican Committeeman, leader of the GOP in Virginia for 30 years and one of the States most distinguished citizens was buried Tuesday in Turkey Cove, Lee County, with a simple Methodist ceremony.

Slemp, the former congressional representative from Virginia's "Fighting Ninth" district and secretary to President Calvin Coolidge, died Saturday in Knoxville, where he was stricken about ten days ago with a cardiac ailment while enroute to his summer home here from Florida where he spent the winter.

A brief tribute

The Rev. S.C. Beard pastor of the Methodist Church in Appalachia praised Slemp's great contribution to his native section, his state, and nation and lauded him for his "love and kindness toward his fellowman."

"I know of no man", the Rev. S.C. Beard said, "who would go farther out of his way to accomodate a friend."

To his brief tribute, the Rev. Beard added the reading of a telegram from Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, who lauded Slemp's contributions to the nation in long years of public service.

Land for this little church in Lee County, Virginia was deeded by Slemp's grandparents and the former Ninth District Congressman throughout his life maintained a deep interest in its welfare. Slemp was probably the outstanding man in his generation in Republican politics in the South and for more than 30 years. He helped direct the party's strategy in Virginia and in the nation.

Born in Lee County, Virginia September 4, 1870, he was the son of Campbell and Nannie B. Cawood Slemp. He graduated from Virginia Military Institute in 1891 and he always felt that his greatest accomplishment was winning the Jackson Medal awarded annually to the most distinguished student at Virginia Military Institute. He studied law at University of Virginia and for a brief time taught mathematics at Virginia Military Institute before returning to Big Stone Gap in 1901 to engage in Law practice.

His father, a Colonel in the Confederate Army, became active in Virginia politics in 1879, when he was elected to the House of Delegates, was the Republican candidate for Lieut. Governor of Virginia in 1889, and was elected to Congress from the Ninth Virginia district in 1902, 1904 and 1906, and politics came natural to his canny son, who in 1905 became chairman of the State Republican Committee. Col. Slemp died 1907, and at a special election in December 1907, Bascom was elected to succeed his father in Congress, defeating David F. Bailey by a margin of nearly 7,000 votes.

In 1908 Slemp was reelected. In 1910 came one of the notable political contests of modern history in the South, Slemp's Congressional race against Henry C. Stuart, Russell County land baron, who was the Democratic nominee and later became Governor of Virginia. It was reported that more than $200,000 was spent by the rival parties.

In 1912 he defeated Gen. Rufus Ayers; in 1914 R. Tate Irvin. In 1916 he defeated E. Lee Trinkle, who later became Governor of Virginia. In 1918 he was unopposed; in 1920 he made his last race; in 1924-26 he declined the nomination. In 1920 he figured importantly in the convention that nominated Harding and Coolidge. Upon the death of President Harding, Coolidge appointed Slemp as his private Secretary in August 1923 and he acted as the President's Confidential adviser until March 1925.

He was one of the first Republican leaders to announce his support of Herbert Hoover for 1928 presidential nomination and helped swing Southern delegations to the Hoover standard. The 1928 campaign apparently crowned Slemp's political desire. He served as commissioner general of the French Colonial Exposition at Paris, was commander of the Legion of Honor (France), was a member of the American Society of the French Legion of Honor, of the National Republican Club of New York, The Army and Navy Club, of the Burning Tree Club, the Metropolitan Club, and served as a member of the board of visitors of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, the Washington Country Club.

"I intend to devote the last years of my life to the people of Southwest Virginia, doing whatsoever I can for them," he told an intimate friend in the 1930's, and he reopened his home at Big Stone Gap and began devoting all his time to Southwest Virginia's interests.

One of his major projects was the Slemp Museum which he founded at Big Stone Gap. It houses many precious antiques which traced the growth of this region from the days of its settling. Slemp knew as many leading public figures as any man of his time and many of their autographed portraits and personal messages to him are in the museum, including what is believed to be the last letter written by Calvin Coolidge and post marked only a few minutes before the ex-President was stricken fatally.

While he was in Paris shortly after World War I, he purchased a 500-piece set of China, exquisitely made, which Queen Victoria of England had made for the Earl of Deaconfield (Disraeli) who was her prime minister.

As an author, too, Slemp made his mark. He had an instinct for character analysis and wrote gracefully. His "Life of Coolidge" won high acclaim. Another volume authorized by him was a collection of his own speeches, and his last work completed just before he went to Florida eight months ago, was editing and compiling speeches by prominent Southwest Virginians.

He educated dozens of young men and women and contributed liberally of his means to schools and churches. He rebuilt his home church at Turkey Cove in Lee County and furnished it with attractive paintings.
